Chicken breast / rice / electrolytes

Now and then, a virus, bacterial infection or some other intolerance occurs and your dog suffers from diarrhoea or a sensitive stomach. The best advice in this case: a diet of light food and electrolytes over a few days.

As easy as that may sound, not everyone has the ingredients needed to be able to prepare this sort of food at home.

Anifit has just the solution for emergencies, and it's ready to serve in just 10 minutes!

The light meal option "chicken/rice/electrolytes" is not an all-in-one food and therefore doesn't provide a fully balanced diet but is intended to be used over a short period of time as a light alternative to normal dog food.

It contains chicken breast (60 %), rice (40 %) and additional electrolytes in order to quickly provide your dog with the minerals it requires.

The rice comes pre-cooked and the chicken breast is freeze dried. The food simply needs to be mixed with hot water (2.5 parts water to 1 part food) and left to stand for 10 minutes.
